Some Difficulty Getting The Mail Out To Bingville

Took Three Days To Make The Round Trip

Mr Pratt, the mail carrier for Bingville, had some trouble getting the mail through last week end. He left Bingville Friday morning as usual but did not arrive here till late Saturday afternoon. Fortunately he had three passengers with him who helped clear the trail most of the way. When they arrived here they were covered with snow to the waist but they got through without any serious car trouble. They left for home Sunday morning.

Treatment of Seed Grain For Smut

Wheat Would Yield Two Bushels To The Acre More

Dr A W Henry of the Alberta University says that Alberta's wheat yield could be increased by two bushels to the acre through scientific seed treatment. Experts claim that more improved Ceresian, standard Lytton and Lytton "P" affords the best protection for seed against disease.

He thinks the use of formaldehyde is particularly dangerous in the dry soils of western Canada since it tends to delay maturity, predisposing plants to disease and insect attacks.

Plan To Reduce Debt For Alberta Like Sask.

Effort To Get It Ready For Opening Of Legislature

It was reported yesterday that a debt-reduction scheme, patterned along the general lines of the Saskatchewan plan which looped $75,000,000 from the farm debts of that province is under consideration for Alberta.

Preparation of an Alberta plan resulted from an interview between representatives of the Mortgage Loans' Assn. and the provincial government last Friday. An effort will be made to have it drafted in time to submit to the government before the session opens on Feb. 25th.

One factor which calls for haste in its preparation is that the plan might have an important bearing on any debt reduction legislation which the government may intend to submit to the legislature.

There is some danger of trouble at the newly built dam in this district when a real thaw comes. It would be wise if some necessary precautions were taken by government officials.

There is considerable sickness of all kinds in town these days. Quite a number are down with flu. Among them was Dr Ward himself who is now around again. Others confined to the house are Messrs J R MacKenzie, C G Hoogvelt of the Glass plant, W Hill and J Hope are also down with the flu.

A Western Pioneer Passes Away Here

Mrs Charlotte Bamforth Died At Her Own Home

Mrs Charlotte Bamforth who has been residing in Redcliff with her son Mr George Bamforth, since last August died here last Saturday at the age of 99 years.

Funeral services took place in Medicine Hat last Sunday afternoon and the remains were forwarded by train on Sunday, to Summerest Manitoba, where she had pioneered in the early days.

Deceased was born in Peterborough, Ont., on Nov 26th 1837. In 1878 she came to Manitoba with her husband and young family and travelled by ox cart and river boats through U S in order to get to their destination, where they homesteaded.

The late Mrs Bamforth is one of the western pioneers to whom the west and all of Canada is indebted for the courage, ability and resourcefulness of the early settlers who are responsible for the growth and development of the Canadian prairies.

Advise Growing Corn In Southern Alberta

As Recommended by Manyberry Experimental Farm

Corn is a crop of considerable importance in southern Alberta and to insure a supply of good seed, growers should be placing their orders. Locally grown seed should be used wherever it can be obtained, but where this is not possible, orders can be filled at any reputable seed house.

Several varieties have been developed to suit the soil and climatic conditions of Southern Alberta. Where the crop is to be "hoaxed off", Genu is recommended. For general food and grain purposes North West (preferably Leithbridge strain), or Minnesota No 13 (Worthy strain) are commonly used.

For ensilage purposes later and taller growing varieties such as Golden Glow, Yellowstone, North West (MacDonald Collier strain) or later strains of Minnesota No 13 are to be recommended.

The crop should be seeded as early in May as the ground is warm enough to permit good germination. Where irrigation is possible corn may be used as a cleaning crop, but under dry land conditions it should be sown on good, clean land.

Nomination For Council

Ratepayers should keep in mind that nominations for council officers will be held on Monday, March 1st. Be sure there will be enough candidates nominated to fill the vacancies. It will be just too bad if nomination or election goes by default again.

With all the snow now on the ground there are likely to be rivers of water when the real thaw comes. Fortunately there is no danger of serious floods as the town has lots of elevation for drainage.

LEGION MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Local Legion will be held in the club rooms on Friday evening of this week at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

Friction Growing in Social Credit Ranks

Public in Sympathy With The Cart Out Members

When friction develops in a political party to the extent that capable members refuse to be dictated to and tried to be forced into line by leaders, and when cabinet ministers give up high salaried positions rather than mere grapephone records, the general public and the ordinary man on the street naturally come to the conclusion that something is radically wrong in "the seats of the mighty."

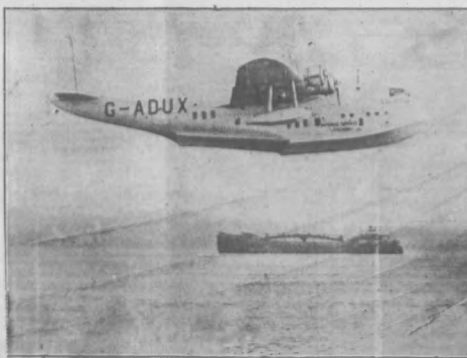

There never has been a time in the history of Canada either in federal or provincial politics when there has been such an upheaval as has transpired in this province during the past six months.

Two Cabinet Ministers and one deputy minister have resigned. Another official who netted $20,000,000 for the province during his regime on the Liquor Control Board, resigned. Two local members and one federal member have been read out of the party all for the same reason: because they read opinions of their own. No political party has ever done this before and many former Social Credit supporters in this district are in sympathy with the attitude of the ex-cabinet members and read out members.

Unemployment in Alberta is gradually increasing from week to week. There are now over 11,000 jobless. The total for the same week last year was 9,414. This shows that unemployment has increased at the rate of 150 a month during the last year under the Social Credit government which, during the election, guaranteed to improve conditions when they got in power.

LOOK AT YOUR LABED

Giant Empire Boat On Maiden Flight

The eighteen-ton Empire Flying Boat "Cassiopeia" shown at the commencement of her maiden flight to Alexandria from Southampton. These new flying boats eliminate the train journey from Paris to Bristol by saving a mere direct route than was possible with the huge land planes. The machine above is carrying 12 passengers, 6 members of a crew, freight, and almost two tons of mail.

Wind and Snow Block Highways Up Badly Again

Kahn Highways Are Now In Worse Shape Than Ever

High wind on Monday accompanied by a flurry of snow blocked up the roads again worse than ever. It now looks as though there will be no traffic on the main highways until the spring comes. Highways which have been plowed out several times leaving banks of snow four and five feet high on either side are now filled in again making it impossible for any plow to get through.

Streets in town are also badly drifted in all directions making it almost impossible for cars to navigate off the main streets.

It is several years since we have had so much snow staying with us so long at a time.

Improvements Under Way At Bony's Garage

Modern Equipment Is Now Being Installed

Bony's Garage in Medicine Hat is undergoing complete improvements, three-bay and when completed will be one of the most up to date garages in the city.

The change being made will allow for more floor space making it much more convenient for handling the customers' cars. New additional equipment and a modern lubricating department now being installed will add considerably to the even better service of car owners of the district.

In this issue of the Review is published the bylaw providing for a vote of the proprietary electors of the town, who are to decide whether or not the town councillors should be paid for their services. The vote is to be taken on March 8th.

Redcliff Hockey Boys Lose To The Bombers

But Showed Big Improvement Over Last Game

Last Sunday afternoon Redcliff Maple Leaf hockey team played a return game with the Bombers in Gray's Chrysalis, Medicine Hat, the Bombers winning out by a score of 2-0. No scoring was done in the first period but in the final the home team netted two winning goals.

Pennut Graham did the scoring for the Bombers. In his first he broke through the defence and made a long shot which Ellis stopped but the rebound bulged the net. With but 2 minutes to go Graham again outwitted the defence and scored again.

The Redcliff team showed a marked improvement over the last game making the contest most interesting.

The Redcliff lads play another game in the Hat next Sunday.

Appoint Commission To Investigate Taxes

Alberta Left Out Of Temporary Aid From Ottawa

A royal commission of inquiry to investigate the whole system of taxation in the Dominion will be appointed, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons.

This announcement followed tabling of the report of the Bank of Canada on Manitoba's financial condition.

The prime minister intimated that in the meantime temporary aid would be extended by the federal government to assist Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The assistance will appear in the supplementary estimates.

What is the matter with Alberta not being included?

It is something new for Redcliff citizens to see several feet of snow piled up in heaps where sidewalks and streets have been shoveled out. Home owners are getting lots of exercise these days.

Federal M. P. Is Read Out Of The S. C. Party

Caucus Decides To Side Track P J Rowe Athabaska

During the past week more trouble has developed in Social Credit circles both at Edmonton and Ottawa. At Edmonton another official has tendered his resignation when R J Dunning who has been chairman of the Alberta Liquor Control Board for the past 14 years, resigned his post.

At Ottawa friction developed when P J Rowe, S C Member for Athabaska, took a firm stand against the Alberta government, claiming that the Albertan cabinet had no plan whatever for the institution of Social Credit and that their only hope was that some miracle would happen. Because he had a mind of his own, the source of his convictions and the back bone to refuse to allow himself whipped into line, Mr Rowe was read out of the federal Social Credit party.

Livestock men assert that had the local government continued the free freight policy without interruption, the present serious situation would have been less serious.

The following poundkeepers have been appointed in this district: H S Aclies, W Bowman, A H Paterson, Safford H Dacre, G H Dickson, O Ferns, Redcliff E Hanson, J Mary, Hargrave.

According to the Alberta Gazette just issued the trade of retail dealers in all kinds of automobile accessories or repairs are now within and subject to the provisions of the Department of Trade and Industry Act and must pay a license.

Hard To Explain

Revolvers and Pistols Registered in Canada Total 86,000.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police report that more than 86,000 revolvers and pistols have been registered in Canada.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police report that more than 86,000 revolvers and pistols have been registered in Canada.

It is a man against a man. Under no conceivable circumstances are they necessary to any person, even a constable when playing a game of burglarized, except possibly to police.

Police themselves would be quite glad if they did not exist. They could know that no man could find on them with a revolver, they would go more happily to their work and not lose any efficiency.

There is no instrument more unnecessary and at the same time that can be hidden away in a man's pocket. Neither is there anything which could be as easily controlled against "boozing" manufacturers—Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

Water Consumption Record

No Restrictions Are Imposed in Capital of Australia.

Canberra, Australia's new-made-to-order capital, has just made a world record among cities for a day's water consumption per head. The figure was 450 gallons.

This was an unusual quantity. Canberra's average daily consumption of water per head is 172 gallons. Even this figure groups the city with Washington, Buffalo and Philadelphia as the world's greatest water users.

The explanation is that Canberra is a garden city with enormous areas of lawns, shrubs and trees. There are no water restrictions—Australian Press.

The Wrong Beat

A young bride had not come out very long from her first encounter with the country book and she story. She ran to the telephone and called her mother.

"Mother," she sobbed, "I can't understand it. The recipe says 'Bring to boil on brisk fire, stirring for two minutes.' Then beat it for ten minutes.' . . . and when I came back it was burned to a cinder!"

Jack Miner's Bird Missionaries

The Value Of The Verse Of Scripture On The Tag In Collecting Data.

By Margaret Wade.

Years ago, when for the first time Jack Miner stamped a verse of Scripture on the reverse side of his collection tag he was placing on the tag a sacred goose, he did not dream that the result was going to be one of great help to himself and of value to naturalists and scientists for all time. His idea was the very simplest of things, but his following men the promise found in the Gospel.

Jack Miner is not a religious fanatic. Far from it. He does not believe in the predestined, reserved, fated, in God characteristic of most of the world's great thinkers. Most of those who have heard him speak from the lecture platform have heard him say, as he has done repeatedly: "No intelligent man can live in the great outdoors and study the creature which occupies it before man has any control over them, combined with the regularity of the sun, the moon, and whispering stars, without being compelled to believe there is an over-riding power."

Yet that verse of Scripture made an appeal to the receptive mind of the people into whose hands it fell that nothing else could have done. It was the verse which to their resident missionaries for interpretation. The missionaries, in turn, carried the verse to the people. Jack Miner at the address given on the face of the tag. In doing so, they carried the verse to the people. Jack Miner had been shot that had carried the verse to the people. Jack Miner had been shot that had carried the verse to the people. ECONOMY AND SMARTNESS COMBINE IN HOLLY HOCK PROCTOR

By Anne Adams.

Exchange of naval, military and air force officers between Canada and the United Kingdom continues, and at the moment 10 British officers are serving in this country.

Defence Minister Mackenzie told the House of Commons in reply to a question previously asked by Jean Francis Proulx (Lib., Trois-Rivières). This exchange system has been in vogue for 30 years.

Of the present group, two are naval, five belong to the British regular army and three are officers of the Royal Air Force. The army and air force officials are on exchange for two years and they are replaced in the British service by a similar number of Canadians.

Naval officers on loan receive the pay and allowances of officers of similar rank in the Royal Canadian Navy—$16.85 a day, for a commander, and $42.5 a day for a commissioned gunner.

Army and air force officers get the pay of their rank in their own service and are paid by the British government.

Canadian exchange officers in the British service are paid by Canada.

Prairie Library Scheme

Queen Mary Contributes 100 Volumes To The Lady Tweedsmuir Project

Recent acquisitions to Lady Tweedsmuir's prairie libraries scheme comprise 100 volumes presented by Queen Mary. Inaugurated a short time before her Excellency left on the visit of England, the establishment of the prairie libraries has proceeded apace. Nearly 2,000 books have been contributed, and as they are received, they are being distributed to the libraries.

Queen Mary's gift has special significance from the fact that the Queen Mother discussed the prairie libraries scheme at length with Lord Tweedsmuir when the recent visit in England was at its height. During that period she occupied herself with the work of the prairie libraries. The Queen told her Excellency she had heard of the project and was delighted to hear that the books which would be included in the distribution of the Queen Mother's books.

Control Of Firearms

Great Britain Has Very Strict Laws To Govern Sale And Use

Britain is one of the few United States and some other countries in the control of firearms in the hands of criminals—a problem which has been submitted to United States Congress by Attorney General Cummings.

Barry in England is a criminal found in possession of a pistol. Even the police do not carry guns, excepting on special occasions when a few pistols may be served out to picked squads—to be returned to headquarters when the emergency has passed. The British constable depends on his truncheon.

No person may purchase a firearm without a special police permit, and it is exceedingly difficult to obtain permission. A would-be purchaser must have a valid reason for possessing a gun. If you have a gun permit, you may not purchase cartridges for it without police consent, and all discharged cartridges must be accounted for before more can be obtained.

Dealers in firearms, all of whom are registered, cannot sell a gun to a person who does not have a certificate. They may not sell a gun to a gun for a person without a certificate. All sales and repairs are reported to the authorities, with full details.

Arm manufacturers are registered, and their output is officially recorded. Theoretically, the authorities know where every gun in the country is, and practically the system is pretty airtight.

Even dummy pistols, or toy pistols, are offensive weapons under the law if used in the commission of crime. If a burglar or holdup man uses a pistol or a dummy gun on him when he does a job, it automatically adds seven years to his prison term. Possession of a pistol without a permit even if no crime is committed, is punishable with a half-year's term. There are special restrictions against the possession of pistols by ex-convicts.

The law protects not only the honest citizen but the criminal in the matter of using firearms. It is manslaughter for a householder to shoot a burglar, for example, unless the thief is attacking or about to attack the householder, or someone in his home.

You are not entitled to shoot a thief merely because you see him climbing out of the door, you may shoot with all your silver on his back. If a householder should shoot a burglar in the belief that the latter was about to use violence, the householder would be liable to conviction for the crime of manslaughter.

The police at times have found themselves handicapped because they carry no pistols.

For instance, about four years ago London was experiencing a wave of daylight smash-and-grab robberies of jewelry stores. Several landladies usually three—would drive up in a fast car in front of a jewelry store, and while the driver kept the motor racing, a second man would dash across the sidewalk to the store window and grab as much costly jewelry as he could quickly. The third member of the party would act as guard, to prevent anyone setting the grab-thief. Within 30 seconds the grab-thief, within 30 seconds the car with the loot.

The only thing a policeman could do, case the car was in motion, was to jump on the running board and force the car to the curb—or hurt his truncheon at the curb. The London lobby threw his club with the accuracy of a basketball using a boomerang. More than one driver was hit on the head and his car crashed.

Horse Won Hunger Strike

Refused To Eat Until Retained To Former Master

The Information Service of the German Railway system reports that a cartier of Muehlen, in Mecklenburg, recently sold his horse, after many years service, to a farmer in a neighboring village. Discontented at his change of masters, the animal began a hunger strike. Finally the farmer took the horse home to the cartier. On the way back it was as much as he could do to prevent the horse from galloping the whole distance. The cartier, who had not reckoned on such fidelity, was obliged to take the horse back and now it munches contentedly in its original stable.

NEW YEAR USHERS IN BIGGEST NAVAL ARMES RACE IN HISTORY

When Bill Ben boomed out its twenty strikes it ushered in a New Year for the countries whose navies had gathered under its tower to celebrate the arrival of 1937, but to the seven big powers it held more significance. The new year was in and a new naval race had commenced which overshadowed any previous naval race in history. The interesting chart above, prepared by the New York Times, shows in the left hand corner the number of ships of the seven principal navies in each class, their total tonnage; how much is new and old. Black portion is new tonnage and the shaded portion old tonnage. Reproduced by courtesy The New York Times.

Trapping War

White Trappers Encroaching On Hunting Grounds Of Indians

Fear of a hunting war between the Indian and the white man was expressed in the annual report of the Department of the Interior. In the year the affairs of the hunting and fishing Indian have become a matter of grave concern to the department. "If white men are allowed to deplete the Indian hunting grounds, the Indians themselves will naturally take all they can, while they can, and there is grave danger that such a situation may bring about intensive competition between the two species of valuable (animal) species," the report said.

Indian families, in most cases, are permanent residents, and their hunting grounds are recognized among themselves as handed down from one generation to another; whereas the white trappers are frequently of the itinerant class, whose practice is to trap out an area and then move elsewhere.

"Latterly there has been an alarming increase in the number of white trappers who are encroaching upon hunting grounds in the northern parts of the various provinces. They were formerly used by Indians only. White trappers are using poison extensively and by the use of this practice is becoming a serious menace to game conservation of the use of poison by any Indian trapper anywhere in Canada has ever come to the attention of the department. It became apparent that, failing special protection, the Indian trappers in the northern regions would become destitute owing to the depletion of the game.

"In the opinion of the department, the only satisfactory solution of these problems is to set aside adequate areas in which Indians only shall be allowed to hunt," the report said.

Man Eats Garden Flowers

Full Of Vitamins And Make Good Diet He Believes

Ordinary garden flowers make a good diet for people who aren't trying to reduce, according to Harold Williams, managing director of a large coal distributing company in Melbourne, Australia.

"They're full of vitamins A and B," he said, munching a gladiolus. "A pansy makes a good coffee, but like them all—that is, all except chilies." And he displayed a well-rounded figure as evidence of their nutritive value.

He created consternation recently by eating about $20 worth of special flowers at a Melbourne dance.

Roses, violets and nasturtiums are his favorites, but he hares chrysanthemums and dahlias.

"I can't spell chrysanthemums and dahlias are too big," he said.

Advertising Freight Service

The Brooklyn Recorder and Times says one of the United States railway systems is embarking upon an advertising campaign in support of its freight service. This is, of course, an innovation, but there can be little doubt that if shippers in general were fully acquainted with main railway freight service, it would receive greater patronage.

Canadian Newspaper In India

Half Of Paper Imports Consist Of Old Printed Sheets

Where do the old newspapers go? Is a question that might be asked, seeing how many millions of copies are turned out from the thousands of presses throughout the world. They are liable to turn up in all sorts of places. If you should happen to make a purchase in one of the bazaars in India, the chances are your parcel would be wrapped in a newspaper that had performed its function as a newsheet and was now devoted to utilitarian purposes. Nearly half of the paper imports into India consist of old newspapers which for the last fiscal year amounted to 97,610 tons, according to the Indian Statistical Department of the Canadian National Railways. Canadian newspapers are again making headway in the paper market of India, after a setback, particularly in Bombay, Calcutta and Madras; also Lucknow. It is claimed that the use of Canadian newspaper is more economical as it does not absorb ink to the same extent as some other kinds.

Hint Help Be Helpful

Scientists Say Phosphate Speeds Up Cooking Of Boiled Meat

By inserting a pinch of phosphate the water in which meat is boiled, meat can be cooked three times as quickly.

This helpful hint to housewives was discovered by scientists of Cambridge.

The toughness of the meat is broken down by the phosphate, which is a harmless form of gelatin takes its place, they say.

Phosphates are essential to the human body, help to build up the teeth and bones, and act as a sedative to the nerves.

"This discovery," a Cambridge scientist said, "applied more particularly to beef and mutton."

All Ready To Cook

Poultry Is Now Wrapped In Cellulose Instead Of Paper

Housewives in several cities can now purchase specially packaged poultry ready to cook and carrying the United States legend for condition and wholesomeness, says the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. After being killed this poultry is immediately frozen. The full-drawn carcasses of the various classes—broilers, fryers, roasters and fowls—are wrapped in cellophane and labeled with the inspection legend of the bureau. The birds usually are packed just to a box.

An interesting outgrowth of this experiment is the packaging of full-drawn turkeys in special individual containers. In this case a tape around the individual carcasses not only carries the inspection legend of the bureau but also the designation of the grade and information to the effect that the turkey has been government graded.

British Woman's Year

Many Outstanding Things Were Achieved By Them In 1936

Year 1936 was very much a British woman's year. Plays by women achieved longest runs, women produced the best selling novel, women broke various records in the way of flying.

A woman moved the Address in reply to the King's speech, a woman became the first R.A. for over 50 years.

A woman was appointed Hunterian Professor in the world of surgery, and we have our first commoner Queen since the reign of Henry VIII.

Work Runs Completion

Book Of Remembrance Will Be Finished In About Two Years

The Book of Remembrance, which will rest in the cabinet on the altar in the memorial chamber at Ottawa will be completed in about two years, Hon. Ian MacKenzie, defense minister, told a questioner in the House of Commons. Approximately 60,000 names will be inscribed in the book, and of these 43,140 have already been written.

All materials with the exception of leather for binding the cover of the book, have been procured and are at hand, the minister said.

The names of all Canadians who died while serving with the Canadian Expeditionary Force have been compiled while those of Canadians who died while serving with the British forces have also been listed.

Relative Value Of Money

Shown In Price List For Seats At Former Coronations

Nothing is so common as to have shown the diminishing power of money better than the prices being asked for seats along the route of the Coronation procession.

In the British Museum one may see a copy of a list of such prices which indicates the relative value of money, the fluctuating amount of loyalty of the people and the state of prosperity of the kingdoms. At the coronation of Edward I. in 1272 the demand for a seat was half a farthing; at the crowning of the second Edward the people were willing to pay a whole farthing.

The price in Edward III's day had risen to a halfpenny, and the chivalry who gave these details seems to think that the show was cheap at that price. Henry V. was no popular that the people opened their purses to the extent of twopenny, and in spite of the unpopularity of Henry VI., of whom it was generally said he "could neither fight nor fly," twopenny was given to see him on Coronation Day.

Religious convictions seem to have played their part in regulating the price for seats. At the coronation of Queen Elizabeth—their remembered "bloody Mary"—they were willing to wait in the hope of joy on getting rid of the Roundhead and planked down their half-crown tickets at Westminster Abbey. His "travels" and mounted the throne of his fathers.

At the coronation of George III. loyalty became even more rampant, and prices sprang up at an unparalleled rate. "Front seats of the gallery at Westminster Abbey" were sold, "were let at 10 guineas and upwards, seats in the street at eight guineas to 10, and every life from whence a glimpse of the procession could be had was a place of eager contention." Seats at every price.

While the owners of windows along the route made large profits on the show, the chairmen and hackney coaches put up every price so high that the Privy Council took a hand in regulating their tariff, and enjoined them to attend on the public at four o'clock on the morning of the Coronation Day and on 30 occasions to attend on the ordinary rates.—Manchester Guardian.

Lonely Lookout Tower

One In Northern Minnesota Is Hurled In Wilderness Area

What probably is the most isolated lookout tower in the northern states has been completed on the Keweenaw ranger station in the Superior national forest.

The tower is accessible only after crossing nine lakes and nine portages by canoe—hydroplane is not allowed. Called Keweenaw tower after the lake near which it is located. Hurdled deep in the heart of the wilderness, it has no telephone communications with the outside world. It will be operated by radio, the ranger station at S. S. Structural steel for the 100-foot tower was hauled to the site last winter over frozen lakes and over the concrete and lumber was down in later by hydroplane.

New Idea For Elections

Used In India Since Policy Of Non-Resistance

As part of their election campaign, a choir of well-known singers in India has been hired by the Non-Resistant party standing for return to the Bombay legislative assembly.

The singers tour slowly through the Bombay area stopping in each village to sing specially composed ballads extolling the policy and objectives of the Non-Resistant party. This scheme is reported to be working successfully. While villages are being visited, the singers are also singing and the Non-Resistant party message.

Old Organ Restored

An organ 1,700 years old has been found in the ruins of a building at Aquileia, a former Roman settlement which is now a suburb of Trieste. An inscription states the organ was built in 228 A.D. It has been removed to the city museum, as well as its two wind chambers and 52 pipes.

"Just Average Folks"

There are no mysterious "fifty big shots" crushing the debtors of Alberta.

The bond and mortgage holders of this Province are just average folks—just such neighborly people as you deal with every day—people who have hood their row successfully, put by a little savings from year to year and tried to invest these savings securely, thus creating nest eggs for their old age.

The $182,000,000 invested by life insurance companies in city and farm mortgages in Canada are the savings of 3,500,000 policyholders. In the same way, other hundreds of millions held in mortgages by lending companies are the savings of scores of thousands of shareholders and debenture holders—$70,000,000 of mortgage holdings of one such company alone representing the savings of between fifty and sixty thousand persons of average means.

In Canada, it is the people of such average means who provide the funds which are invested in bonds and mortgages in Alberta and other provinces.

This statement is one of a series written by The Mortgage Loans Association of the Province of Alberta. The Association is composed of 34 member companies. It represents hundreds of thousands of such investments by typical Canadians. The loans to citizens of Alberta amount to over forty-five million dollars.
(The seventh statement in this series will be published in two weeks)
